Research interests: I study the relationship between beliefs about social categories, especially gender/sex and sexuality, and people's perceptions of others and self-concepts. I have two main lines of research: (1) essentialist and social constructionist beliefs and their links to prejudice against marginalized groups (e.g., transgender and gender/sex diverse people), and (2) how understandings of gender/sex and sexuality affect how people construct their own gender/sex and sexual identities.
